

MR. MARTINELLI HERE. HE COMES TO REPLACE SATOLLI AS APOSTOLIC DELEGATE.

The Campanian, on which he was a passenger, passed the night in the bay, and will come up to New York today. He will go on to Washington.

Mr. Martinelli, Archbishop of Rheims, recently appointed Apostolic Delegate to the United States to succeed Cardinal Satolli, arrived here last night on the steamship Campanian, which arrived at the pier at 10 o'clock. He will go on to Washington tomorrow.

Mr. Martinelli is a small dark man with a typical Italian face. He will not remain in this city for the present, but will go to Washington to-day over the Pennsylvania road in the private car of the Vice-President of the company.

There will be a grand pontifical high mass in the church celebrated by Cardinal Satolli as a parting token of good will toward the Jesuit Fathers in whose parish the apostolic delegate resides.

Dr. Martinelli wears on state as well as on religious occasions the habit of the Augustinian order. This consists of a loose caecole of black serge, supplemented by a large cape and cowl.

Cardinal Satolli will leave Washington on Oct. 8, and, accompanied by his secretary, Father Pambianco, will go to Newark, where for four days he will be the guest of the Bishop of Newark.

Mr. Martinelli will maintain the headquarters of the Apostolic Delegate at Washington. Not much has been said to his mission in America, which is continued at the pleasure of the Pope.

The Campanian, because of the rough weather encountered on the trip, did not arrive abeam of Fire Island until many hours after she was expected.

Mr. Martinelli will maintain the headquarters of the Apostolic Delegate at Washington. Not much has been said to his mission in America, which is continued at the pleasure of the Pope.

Mr. Martinelli will maintain the headquarters of the Apostolic Delegate at Washington. Not much has been said to his mission in America, which is continued at the pleasure of the Pope.

Mr. Martinelli will maintain the headquarters of the Apostolic Delegate at Washington. Not much has been said to his mission in America, which is continued at the pleasure of the Pope.

Mr. Martinelli will maintain the headquarters of the Apostolic Delegate at Washington. Not much has been said to his mission in America, which is continued at the pleasure of the Pope.

Mr. Martinelli will maintain the headquarters of the Apostolic Delegate at Washington. Not much has been said to his mission in America, which is continued at the pleasure of the Pope.

Mr. Martinelli will maintain the headquarters of the Apostolic Delegate at Washington. Not much has been said to his mission in America, which is continued at the pleasure of the Pope.

Mr. Martinelli will maintain the headquarters of the Apostolic Delegate at Washington. Not much has been said to his mission in America, which is continued at the pleasure of the Pope.

Mr. Martinelli will maintain the headquarters of the Apostolic Delegate at Washington. Not much has been said to his mission in America, which is continued at the pleasure of the Pope.

Mr. Martinelli will maintain the headquarters of the Apostolic Delegate at Washington. Not much has been said to his mission in America, which is continued at the pleasure of the Pope.

SHOT THE MAN WHO SAVED HIM.

Forward Because His Hat Was Knocked Off as He Was Pinned From the Tracks.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Oct. 2.—Frank Eckert, a mail carrier, saved Frank Cervidre's life this afternoon, and in doing so knocked the fellow's hat off. Five minutes later Cervidre drew a revolver and fired three shots at Eckert. All of the bullets hit Eckert, but he was not hurt.

Cervidre is an Italian and lives in Westfield. He had been at Easton, Pa., and got on an express train that did not stop at Westfield, and was told by the conductor to change cars at Round Brook.

When Eckert saw Cervidre, he was standing on the platform at the time and saw a coal train approaching. He started after the excited Italian and grabbed him just as he stepped down from the train.

The shooting caused great excitement among the passengers. The train stopped at Round Brook, and the passengers gathered around the platform.

Cardinal Satolli will leave Washington on Oct. 8, and, accompanied by his secretary, Father Pambianco, will go to Newark, where for four days he will be the guest of the Bishop of Newark.

Mr. Martinelli will maintain the headquarters of the Apostolic Delegate at Washington. Not much has been said to his mission in America, which is continued at the pleasure of the Pope.

Mr. Martinelli will maintain the headquarters of the Apostolic Delegate at Washington. Not much has been said to his mission in America, which is continued at the pleasure of the Pope.

Mr. Martinelli will maintain the headquarters of the Apostolic Delegate at Washington. Not much has been said to his mission in America, which is continued at the pleasure of the Pope.

Mr. Martinelli will maintain the headquarters of the Apostolic Delegate at Washington. Not much has been said to his mission in America, which is continued at the pleasure of the Pope.

Mr. Martinelli will maintain the headquarters of the Apostolic Delegate at Washington. Not much has been said to his mission in America, which is continued at the pleasure of the Pope.

Mr. Martinelli will maintain the headquarters of the Apostolic Delegate at Washington. Not much has been said to his mission in America, which is continued at the pleasure of the Pope.

Mr. Martinelli will maintain the headquarters of the Apostolic Delegate at Washington. Not much has been said to his mission in America, which is continued at the pleasure of the Pope.

Mr. Martinelli will maintain the headquarters of the Apostolic Delegate at Washington. Not much has been said to his mission in America, which is continued at the pleasure of the Pope.

Mr. Martinelli will maintain the headquarters of the Apostolic Delegate at Washington. Not much has been said to his mission in America, which is continued at the pleasure of the Pope.

Mr. Martinelli will maintain the headquarters of the Apostolic Delegate at Washington. Not much has been said to his mission in America, which is continued at the pleasure of the Pope.

Mr. Martinelli will maintain the headquarters of the Apostolic Delegate at Washington. Not much has been said to his mission in America, which is continued at the pleasure of the Pope.

Mr. Martinelli will maintain the headquarters of the Apostolic Delegate at Washington. Not much has been said to his mission in America, which is continued at the pleasure of the Pope.

CEDAR KEYS HEARD FROM.

Eighteen Lives Lost in Town in the Recent Storm.

Other Lives Lost on the Water—Many Fishing Vessels Lost—The Water Rose Higher Than in Any Storm Before—Damage to the Buildings in the Town.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Oct. 2.—A letter from Cedar Keys, Fla., dated yesterday, says: "The West India hurricane, of which the weather bureau gave warning, struck Cedar Keys about 3:30 o'clock on Tuesday morning and left a scene of wreckage and devastation in its wake."

At 10 A. M. the worst was over, the wind subsided, the water began to recede, and by 2 P. M. people could begin reckoning up the losses and clearing away the wreckage.

The Florida Central and Peninsula Railroad is a heavy loss, as all the tracks resting in the water were destroyed.

Some may have made harbors at other points, but the Roman liner, the Campania, was wrecked on the beach.

Washington has no communication by the South except through New York. The Washington Times will be the only paper to receive news from the South.

It is a remarkable fact that the news published in the Times the past few days from Richmond, only 100 miles away from the city, and from other points along the Atlantic coast south of Washington, has been telegraphed to the city.

Washington has no communication by the South except through New York. The Washington Times will be the only paper to receive news from the South.

It is a remarkable fact that the news published in the Times the past few days from Richmond, only 100 miles away from the city, and from other points along the Atlantic coast south of Washington, has been telegraphed to the city.

Washington has no communication by the South except through New York. The Washington Times will be the only paper to receive news from the South.

It is a remarkable fact that the news published in the Times the past few days from Richmond, only 100 miles away from the city, and from other points along the Atlantic coast south of Washington, has been telegraphed to the city.

Washington has no communication by the South except through New York. The Washington Times will be the only paper to receive news from the South.

It is a remarkable fact that the news published in the Times the past few days from Richmond, only 100 miles away from the city, and from other points along the Atlantic coast south of Washington, has been telegraphed to the city.

Washington has no communication by the South except through New York. The Washington Times will be the only paper to receive news from the South.

It is a remarkable fact that the news published in the Times the past few days from Richmond, only 100 miles away from the city, and from other points along the Atlantic coast south of Washington, has been telegraphed to the city.

Washington has no communication by the South except through New York. The Washington Times will be the only paper to receive news from the South.

It is a remarkable fact that the news published in the Times the past few days from Richmond, only 100 miles away from the city, and from other points along the Atlantic coast south of Washington, has been telegraphed to the city.

Washington has no communication by the South except through New York. The Washington Times will be the only paper to receive news from the South.

WATCHED FOR MRS. CLEVELAND.

The Philadelphia Crew Who Wanted to See Her.

John Bonasia, the demented Philadelphia, who left home several days ago and came to this city to look for Mrs. Cleveland, wife of the President, was taken into custody Thursday night by Central Office Detectives Doran and Tinker.

At 10 A. M. the worst was over, the wind subsided, the water began to recede, and by 2 P. M. people could begin reckoning up the losses and clearing away the wreckage.

The Florida Central and Peninsula Railroad is a heavy loss, as all the tracks resting in the water were destroyed.

Some may have made harbors at other points, but the Roman liner, the Campania, was wrecked on the beach.

Washington has no communication by the South except through New York. The Washington Times will be the only paper to receive news from the South.

It is a remarkable fact that the news published in the Times the past few days from Richmond, only 100 miles away from the city, and from other points along the Atlantic coast south of Washington, has been telegraphed to the city.

Washington has no communication by the South except through New York. The Washington Times will be the only paper to receive news from the South.

It is a remarkable fact that the news published in the Times the past few days from Richmond, only 100 miles away from the city, and from other points along the Atlantic coast south of Washington, has been telegraphed to the city.

Washington has no communication by the South except through New York. The Washington Times will be the only paper to receive news from the South.

It is a remarkable fact that the news published in the Times the past few days from Richmond, only 100 miles away from the city, and from other points along the Atlantic coast south of Washington, has been telegraphed to the city.

Washington has no communication by the South except through New York. The Washington Times will be the only paper to receive news from the South.

It is a remarkable fact that the news published in the Times the past few days from Richmond, only 100 miles away from the city, and from other points along the Atlantic coast south of Washington, has been telegraphed to the city.

Washington has no communication by the South except through New York. The Washington Times will be the only paper to receive news from the South.

It is a remarkable fact that the news published in the Times the past few days from Richmond, only 100 miles away from the city, and from other points along the Atlantic coast south of Washington, has been telegraphed to the city.

Washington has no communication by the South except through New York. The Washington Times will be the only paper to receive news from the South.

It is a remarkable fact that the news published in the Times the past few days from Richmond, only 100 miles away from the city, and from other points along the Atlantic coast south of Washington, has been telegraphed to the city.

Washington has no communication by the South except through New York. The Washington Times will be the only paper to receive news from the South.

WATSON ATTACKS BUTLER.

POLICIES HAVE BEEN ADOPTED WHICH HE DOESN'T APPROVE.

He is Humiliated and Embarrassed, but He Has Not Changed His Position—He Is for the Middle of the Road Ticket—His Protest to Mr. Butler About Fusion.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 2.—In this week's edition of Thomas E. Watson's People's party paper, issued to-day, appears an editorial article attacking National Chairman Marion Butler, which is considered of much significance in the eyes of the party.

At 10 A. M. the worst was over, the wind subsided, the water began to recede, and by 2 P. M. people could begin reckoning up the losses and clearing away the wreckage.

The Florida Central and Peninsula Railroad is a heavy loss, as all the tracks resting in the water were destroyed.

Some may have made harbors at other points, but the Roman liner, the Campania, was wrecked on the beach.

Washington has no communication by the South except through New York. The Washington Times will be the only paper to receive news from the South.

It is a remarkable fact that the news published in the Times the past few days from Richmond, only 100 miles away from the city, and from other points along the Atlantic coast south of Washington, has been telegraphed to the city.

Washington has no communication by the South except through New York. The Washington Times will be the only paper to receive news from the South.

It is a remarkable fact that the news published in the Times the past few days from Richmond, only 100 miles away from the city, and from other points along the Atlantic coast south of Washington, has been telegraphed to the city.

Washington has no communication by the South except through New York. The Washington Times will be the only paper to receive news from the South.

It is a remarkable fact that the news published in the Times the past few days from Richmond, only 100 miles away from the city, and from other points along the Atlantic coast south of Washington, has been telegraphed to the city.

Washington has no communication by the South except through New York. The Washington Times will be the only paper to receive news from the South.

It is a remarkable fact that the news published in the Times the past few days from Richmond, only 100 miles away from the city, and from other points along the Atlantic coast south of Washington, has been telegraphed to the city.

Washington has no communication by the South except through New York. The Washington Times will be the only paper to receive news from the South.

It is a remarkable fact that the news published in the Times the past few days from Richmond, only 100 miles away from the city, and from other points along the Atlantic coast south of Washington, has been telegraphed to the city.

Washington has no communication by the South except through New York. The Washington Times will be the only paper to receive news from the South.

It is a remarkable fact that the news published in the Times the past few days from Richmond, only 100 miles away from the city, and from other points along the Atlantic coast south of Washington, has been telegraphed to the city.

MR. LINCOLN NEVER SAID IT.

John G. Nicolay Says the Quotation the Bryanites Use Is Spurious.

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—John G. Nicolay, one of President Lincoln's secretaries, a letter in which he declares spurious an alleged quotation from Lincoln now in general circulation as a Democratic campaign document.

At 10 A. M. the worst was over, the wind subsided, the water began to recede, and by 2 P. M. people could begin reckoning up the losses and clearing away the wreckage.

The Florida Central and Peninsula Railroad is a heavy loss, as all the tracks resting in the water were destroyed.

Some may have made harbors at other points, but the Roman liner, the Campania, was wrecked on the beach.

Washington has no communication by the South except through New York. The Washington Times will be the only paper to receive news from the South.

It is a remarkable fact that the news published in the Times the past few days from Richmond, only 100 miles away from the city, and from other points along the Atlantic coast south of Washington, has been telegraphed to the city.

Washington has no communication by the South except through New York. The Washington Times will be the only paper to receive news from the South.

It is a remarkable fact that the news published in the Times the past few days from Richmond, only 100 miles away from the city, and from other points along the Atlantic coast south of Washington, has been telegraphed to the city.

Washington has no communication by the South except through New York. The Washington Times will be the only paper to receive news from the South.

It is a remarkable fact that the news published in the Times the past few days from Richmond, only 100 miles away from the city, and from other points along the Atlantic coast south of Washington, has been telegraphed to the city.

Washington has no communication by the South except through New York. The Washington Times will be the only paper to receive news from the South.

It is a remarkable fact that the news published in the Times the past few days from Richmond, only 100 miles away from the city, and from other points along the Atlantic coast south of Washington, has been telegraphed to the city.

Washington has no communication by the South except through New York. The Washington Times will be the only paper to receive news from the South.

It is a remarkable fact that the news published in the Times the past few days from Richmond, only 100 miles away from the city, and from other points along the Atlantic coast south of Washington, has been telegraphed to the city.

Washington has no communication by the South except through New York. The Washington Times will be the only paper to receive news from the South.

It is a remarkable fact that the news published in the Times the past few days from Richmond, only 100 miles away from the city, and from other points along the Atlantic coast south of Washington, has been telegraphed to the city.

Washington has no communication by the South except through New York. The Washington Times will be the only paper to receive news from the South.

GOOD CHEER FOR MCKINLEY.

MESSRS. LODGE, ROOSEVELT, AND DINGLEY AMONG HIS CALLED.

Mr. Roosevelt Says There Will Be a "Washout" for the Bryanites in New York and the East—McKinley Makes One Speech—Clay and Free Silver.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 2.—Two enthusiastic delegations greeted Major McKinley to-day, and he had a house full of callers besides. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts and Theodore Roosevelt of New York were East-bound from a short trip West in the interest of the campaign, and stopped over between trains for a social visit.

At 10 A. M. the worst was over, the wind subsided, the water began to recede, and by 2 P. M. people could begin reckoning up the losses and clearing away the wreckage.

The Florida Central and Peninsula Railroad is a heavy loss, as all the tracks resting in the water were destroyed.

Some may have made harbors at other points, but the Roman liner, the Campania, was wrecked on the beach.

Washington has no communication by the South except through New York. The Washington Times will be the only paper to receive news from the South.

It is a remarkable fact that the news published in the Times the past few days from Richmond, only 100 miles away from the city, and from other points along the Atlantic coast south of Washington, has been telegraphed to the city.

Washington has no communication by the South except through New York. The Washington Times will be the only paper to receive news from the South.

It is a remarkable fact that the news published in the Times the past few days from Richmond, only 100 miles away from the city, and from other points along the Atlantic coast south of Washington, has been telegraphed to the city.

Washington has no communication by the South except through New York. The Washington Times will be the only paper to receive news from the South.

It is a remarkable fact that the news published in the Times the past few days from Richmond, only 100 miles away from the city, and from other points along the Atlantic coast south of Washington, has been telegraphed to the city.

Washington has no communication by the South except through New York. The Washington Times will be the only paper to receive news from the South.

It is a remarkable fact that the news published in the Times the past few days from Richmond, only 100 miles away from the city, and from other points along the Atlantic coast south of Washington, has been telegraphed to the city.

Washington has no communication by the South except through New York. The Washington Times will be the only paper to receive news from the South.

It is a remarkable fact that the news published in the Times the past few days from Richmond, only 100 miles away from the city, and from other points along the Atlantic coast south of Washington, has been telegraphed to the city.

Washington has no communication by the South except through New York. The Washington Times will be the only paper to receive news from the South.

It is a remarkable fact that the news published in the Times the past few days from Richmond, only 100 miles away from the city, and from other points along the Atlantic coast south of Washington, has been telegraphed to the city.